

Live Well

Mannatech's superior technologies are leading the way in wellness, which is expected to become a trillion dollar industry. We also take the lead in business opportunities with:

- Industry-leading, proprietary science-based nutritional products
- A seamless global compensation plan
- The chance to improve the quality of life of others

Why Network Marketing?

Most retail companies spend millions on advertising—often as much as 50% of total product costs. Mannatech allocates much of that same budget for people like you who share the gift of wellness with others. Since 1996, we've paid over U.S. $900 million in Associate commissions globally. You could be sharing in this opportunity.

What do I have to do?

Our Success Platform can be an innovative approach to earning additional income. Unlike companies who tell you to go get to succeed, Mannatech asks that you give to others to enrich their lives and help them achieve success. Once you begin sharing Mannatech with others, you'll identify people who want to try the product and some who will also be interested in joining you as a team member. The great news is that you'll be sharing the gifts of the products and rewarding opportunities that attracted you.

What support will I have?

Mannatech provides support and tools as you begin growing your business.

- Our Success Platform makes it easy to share the Mannatech opportunity and products with others.
- Cornerstone™ Training, group sessions and annual corporate sponsored events to help keep you informed and empowered.
- You'll become part of a team whose goal is to help you achieve success.

How do I get started?

There are several options for getting started on your Mannatech journey, so work directly with a knowledgeable Associate to find the best one for you. You can get started with as few as, or as much of our world-class products as you want. Plus, you'll always receive training and support materials.

What about the products?

Mannatech products are unique, cutting-edge, proprietary technologies that cannot be found in common health food stores, which helps to provide an exclusive market for you.

We are committed to ongoing product research and development. In the past five years, Mannatech has spent over U.S. $20,000,000 on research to ensure that our customers receive state of the art wellness solutions.

How is this opportunity really different?

Our business principles emphasises the principles of giving and adding value. We focus on the concerns and wellness of others first and provide service and knowledge our customers don't get from most retail environments. Combine our giving vision with the value of our guaranteed* products and you'll find that you'll never have to "force" a sale.

Mannatech has helped over a quarter million Associates live well. Shouldn't you be next?
